

da Borsa Italiana

the stock market for italian smes, known as aim after the now major london-based market, bolstered by over 3,000 sme listings since its launch in 1995, is an excellent launching pad for our leading italian businesses: the children of sergio leone explain why they decided to list their leone film group in december 2013, which turned over approximately 13 million euro in 2012.