

We can support any kind of collective initiative, aimed at enhancing business for a number of companies that share a common development plan.

- In this regard, we share and identify the contractual/corporate solutions most suited to each specific case, being able to provide strategic consultation starting from the preparation of the industrial development plan right up to the more technical aspects such as contracts and company configuration, acting as highly qualified and independent consultants supporting groups of enterprises;
- Worthy of a special mention is our specialist skills in the collaboration format known as “business network” in Italian law, which has seen us at take centre stage also in specialist publications on the subject (see “Publications” section);
- We can also identify, within the specific areas of national and international scouting , particular qualified contacts, aimed at the growth potential of both strategic and operational industrial and commercial alliances.
